COVERING LETTER

I wrote these lines to express my strong desire to work for you, in your business institution, and be a part of your business team. I believe that such vacancy you announced is a good opportunity for anyone to get engaged in a real workplace, and in real challenges, where wide knowledge, considerable experience and many lessons can be learnt.

I am ready and well-prepared to work under any stressing conditions, and to work where I currently live in, or in any other place. I am really ready for any distant or near relocation. I do not mind even to work abroad, outside Germany, if you are running any overseas business.

I understand that some jobs or tasks may be very different from my university major, or not directly related to it, so here I love to say that I am also ready to work any other different job, and preferably if a training course can be given.

As witnessed from my previous employers, I am punctual, a hardworking, and a reliable workteam member, and I commit to carry out my assignments on time, accurately, neatly and secretly. Indeed, I love teamwork, team coexistence, especially in an international workteam environment.
